Although reports from states indicate a decreasing incidence of influenza throughout the country, the number of deaths from all causes in 114 large cities increased slightly above that for the previous week, that is, 11,997 as compared with 11,804. The increase was evident for each geographic area except the New England, East North Central, and Mountain Divisions. The number of deaths were above the expected value in the Middle Atlantic, South Atlantic, and Mountain Divisions. Thirteen cities reported a greater than expected number of deaths. The number of deaths from influenza and pneumonia was 566 as compared with 535 for the previous week. The numbers were above expected values for the country as a whole and particularly in the East North Central, West North Central, South Atlantic, Mountain, and Pacific Divisions.
